Call for Proposals

Teaching and Learning with Technology Conference 2009
“Changing the learning landscape”

Tuesday, April 21, and Wednesday, April 22, 2009

Keynote speaker

Sarah Robbins-Bell
Higher education consultant, intellagirl.com.
Her work has been featured in the New York Times,
USA Today, and The Chronicle of Higher Education

Call for Proposals Deadline: January 19, 2009

You are invited to attend and present at the 12th annual TLT Conference at Purdue University next April. Attendees will include higher education faculty and administrators, K-12 teachers and tech coordinators, and IT professionals.

Individuals accepted for the technology-mediated feedback track will be eligible to receive financial assistance to attend through the support of the “Increasing Access to Quality Learning through Effective Use of Peer Feedback in Online Discussions” project (http://www.edci.purdue.edu/fipse/).

Proposals are sought for presentations, workshops, and poster sessions on the following conference tracks:
- Technology-mediated feedback
- Connected learning
- Student success and assessment
- Adapting learning spaces
- Mobile devices for better communication
- Gaming and immersive environments
- Online learning in K–12 classrooms
- Distributed learning systems

Please submit proposals electronically to http://tlt.purdue.edu. Proposal acceptance notices will be emailed in February.

For more information, to preregister, or to read the complete Call for Proposals, visit http://tlt.purdue.edu

Purdue is an equal access/equal opportunity/affirmative action university.